The Civic Club of Harrisburg Affiliates Host “Manners Matter”

HARRISBURG-- On Sunday, November 20, 2011 beginning at 1 p.m. The Civic Club of Harrisburg Affiliates will host “Manners Matter,” a 3-hour program on table manners, anti-bullying, appropriate use of social media, ballroom dancing and proper etiquette for 7-12 years olds. This program is just in time for the 2011 holiday season and will be held in the club’s ballroom at 612 N. Front Street, Harrisburg.

Cost for the event, which includes a snack, is $40. Some scholarships are available.

“In this day and age good manners and proper etiquette are more important than ever,” said Beth Cornell, president of The Civic Club of Harrisburg. “Many young people don’t know how to set a dining table, introduce their friends, behave well on their cell phones or write a thank you note.”

Cornell continued, “our goal is to help our children to be happier, more productive and more agreeable. We want them to use the “magic words” please... thank you... excuse me... I’m sorry... and you’re welcome in their everyday conversations.”

The children will learn through games and hands-on demonstrations from several TCCH members and Affiliates. This will be the fifth time that the TCCH has offered this program in the midstate.

Inquiries can be made by calling (717) 234-6736 responding to the RSVP line and online via mannersmatter10@gmail.com.
